EMPIRE CASES

Anderson and Others Put on Trial Yesterday.

Strong Array of Counsel in the Case and Long Trial Is Expected.

The examining trial of J. W.
Anderson, Ed and Jim Goldsworthy, Ellis Deckard and Geo. Philip, charged with shooting from ambush at John Field and the murder of officer R. H. Coffey, at Empire, Oct. 26, was called yesterday and is now in progress before Judge Candler.

The court decided to try all of the men jointly on both charges.

The prisoners are represented by attorneys W. H. Yost, R. Y. Thomas, Everett Jennings, C. H. Bush, Southall & Son, and J. C. Duffy.
The prosecution is represented by County Attorney Anderson, Brethett & Howell and Wood & Son.

There are 75 witnesses and the trial will occupy several days.

But little progress was made in the case yesterday.

GRADING COMPLETED

Cadiz Railroad Ready For The Track at Gracey.

Rolling Stock To Be Purchased
This Week And Track-Laying Begun.

The work of grading the Cadiz & Gracey railroad was finished last week and the roadbed is ready for the track. The laying of ties was begun yesterday and the work will proceed rapidly, ties and rails being laid from this end. The road comes into Gracey through the Bryant field and connects with the Illinois Central road at the "Y" junction, two hundred yards north of the town.

A fill of nine feet had to be made in Bryant's field. The line of the road is very crooked and all heavy cuts or fills were avoided, where-ever possible.

Mr. W. C. White, who is President of the road, which is ten miles long, has gone east to buy the rolling stock this week. The Cadiz people are counting confidently on having the road completed before January 1st.

It is believed now that the L. C. and not the L. & N., will operate the road under some sort of an arrangement.

ONLY HALF CROP

Of Corn Raised in Kentucky This Year.

The final crop report of the season was issued Saturday by the Kentucky Agricultural Department.
It shows that only 54 per cent of the crop of corn was harvested, and that 54 per cent of a crop of wheat was raised, and 45 per cent still in the hands of the raisers. The hemp and tobacco crops, especially in the delta, did not do well. The quality of hemp was harvested, and the quality of tobacco is placed at 90 per cent.

TWENTY-FIVE

Went Forward For Prayer at the Tabernacle.

The Baptist Revival is growing to large proportions under the preaching of Dr. Broughton. Services at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon and night were great union meetings. At night 3000 people were present and 25 persons went forward for prayer. The services will continue this week at the Baptist church afternoons and nights.

THREE SHOT

Jerry Wilson Killed And Two Other Men Wounded.

Fatal Affray at a Baptizing Near Hinsleytown Sunday.

A fatal row occurred at the colored Baptist church at Hinsleytown Sunday, in which one man was killed and two others wounded.
The trouble started at the scene of a baptism near the church and Henry Davie and Abe Allen emptied their pistols at each other, shooting five times each.

The result of this shooting was that Allen was hit once in the leg and grazed on the side by a second bullet.

His wounds were not serious.
Davie was not hurt in this encounter. The crowd at the baptizing was broken up and Davie ran to the clark a few yards away, re-loading his pistol as he went. He was followed by several of the deacons and other church members who undertook to arrest him. Davie started to run, when several of them followed and a running fire ensued. Davie was hit in the leg and slightly wounded by one some of the pursuing party and stopped long enough to put a bullet into the heart of Jerry Wilson, who fell dead in his tracks.

Davie then resumed his flight and disappeared. He is a young negro about 21 years old, who lived at Mr. Henry Kelly's.

Jerry Wilson, who was killed, was about 45 years old and was a prominent leader in the church. In the second fight ten shots were fired, making about twenty in all.

The minister in charge of the church was Rev. Joe Buckner, of this city.

OFFICIAL FIGURES

Only Six Doubtful Ballots Held To Be Valid.

These Made a Net Gain of Two Votes For Feland And Other Republicans.

A canvass of the votes cast in Christian county was made Friday by the board of commissioners, Sheriff Joe J. Barnes,
C. A. Brasher and M. H. Nelson.

It was found that ten of the 28 precincts had sent in no returns, the officers having locked up everything in the boxes with the ballots, which cannot be opened for six months.
The county clerk had provided the duplicate certificates held by the judges of the election, and these were accepted as valid; in the missing precincts not returned, 41 doubtful ballots were reported as not counted. These will not be accessible for six months, but judging by the other precincts, but few of them could be counted for either side. The official count made a change of only six votes.

These were all stamped near the devices, but outside the circle.
Four were counted for the Republican ticket, and two for the Fusion ticket. The table given shows the official majorities. Feland in the senatorial race has 415 majority.

The lost Tayapa gold and silver mines, worked by the Spaniards 200 years ago, have been found near Guaymas, Mexico. The old smelters and other ruins have been unearthed.

The Democrats elected all but two of their nominees in Todd county. Wallace R. Wood, formerly of this city, was elected county clerk over Arch Dickinson by 15 votes and Miss Nina Griffin, the Republican nominee for school Superintendent, was successful by 81 votes.

Mrs. Archibald S. White, wife of the President of the Salt Trust and one of the most beautiful women in New York, slipped in her bathtub and fell, striking her head on a marble basin-producing death. She was found some time afterwards, dead, on the floor with her skull fractured.

Exhibitors are arriving in large numbers in Charleston, S. C., and 100+ shows of exhibits have already reached the city for the exposition. The people of Charleston are making great preparations to entertain the visitors. The exposition is expected to open December 1.

Judge J. Fletcher Dempsey was thrown from a buggy in Louisville Sunday night, while driving, and sustained very serious injuries, that may prove fatal. Judge Dempsey's home is at Madisonville and he is a member of the State Railroad Commission.

as the new champion. The opposition of the "Hero de Santiago."

A blowin' cave has been found by Mr. Thorson, a Wayne County man. The blowin' cave is not far from Dry Fork and it is so named because wind is constantly coming from it in a wild way and it can be heard cutting and shrilling in the cave. It is accepted theory that the air comes from Blowin' Cave comes from deep water that is rushing through the cavern.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the body.
Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country.

It is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best emollients, and applied directly on the mucous surfaces. This perfect combination of the two ingredients, which produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh and its testimonies are the best.

Itching Skin

Itches by day and sleeps at night. This is the trouble of those who are unfortunate to be affected with Eczema or Cutaneous and outward applications do not cure.
They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood — make that pure and this sollition will dispel.

I was taken with an itching on my hands which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have you not had any skin trouble? Mass it with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Point, Md.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

rid the blood of all impurities and our all eruptions.

Li Hung Chang's death was caused by the desperate effort of Russia to obtain his signature to the secret Manchurian treaty without the approval of the ministers of the other Powers. Li insisted on first getting the approval of the ministers, and on the Russian minister refusing to permit him to make public the treaty, Li refused to sign the treaty and flew into a rage, which caused the fatal hemorrhage.
Meantime Japan had obtained an inkling of the proceedings and succeeded in getting the Empress Dowager to direct Li not to sign.
He was already unconscious when this order was received.

Esq. Thos. H. Major made a most creditable race for magistrate in the Longview district. The district is made up of five overwhelmingly Republican districts, but Esq. Major succeeded in cutting down the majority to only 68 votes over a popular Republican. He carried his own precinct almost solidly and virtually wiped out the big majorities in two others.

The vote in Hopkins county had not been counted in the Senatorial race yesterday afternoon, as the board is holding night sessions.
It is expected that Pendleton's lead of 9 votes will be overcome by the canvass of 21 doubtful ballots not counted.

The statue of Thomas Jefferson, presented to the city of Louisville by Messrs. I. W. and B. Bernheim, was unveiled Saturday afternoon in the presence of 4,000 people. Former Gov. W. O. Bradley was the orator of the occasion.

Naylor's majority over Mott Ayers, in Fulton and Hickman, was 57%.

TRIGG COUNTY

Takes Almost Clean Sweep
From Judge to Constables

The Trigg county Democrats made an excellent showing. The majority for the county ticket was as follows: Henry R. Lawrence, representative, 173; G. B.
Bingham, judge, 75; Denny P.
Smith, attorney over Max Han-bury, 278; L. R. Wallis, clerk, 207; A. L. Cunningham, Sept. comptroller, 249; W. B. Barnes, assessor, 201; A. L. Lyon, judge, 252; C. T. Blacker, coroner, 223; Jim C. Blacker, surveyor, no opposition.

Cadiz elected the following officials:

John D. Shaw, Mayor, 100 majority over M. S. Thompson.

Wallace Hancock, city judge, 4 majority over J. B. Shelton.

Councilmen—Kee R. McKee, Geo.
Smith, Dr. Homer Blaine, John J.
Jefferson, Elmer Alexander, Henry Malone.

STOCK BROUGHT $7,000.

Administrator's Sale of General Merchandise at Crofton.

The stock of goods of J. E. Croft & Co., at Crofton, was sold at public auction last Friday by the administrator of J. E. Croft. The whole of the goods was the purchaser.
The price was $7,000. It is understood that the general merchandise business will be continued under the management of Mr. W. W. Trotter, who has had charge of the store for several years.

It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country.

It is a regular prescription.

It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with
the best emollients, and applied directly on the mucous surfaces. This perfect combination of the two
ingredients, which produces such
wonderful results in curing Catarrh
and its testimonies are the best.

WANT FREE PIKES

Clarksville Wrought up Over Loss of Trade.

A special from Clarksville to Sunday American says—

"The business men of Clarksville are much wrought up over an alleged loss of trade to Hopkinsville on account of the workings of the toll system. The recent purchase of that portion of the Hopkinsville pike lying in Christian County by that county, resulting in the abolishment of the toll system, it is claimed, has turned much trade that otherwise came here to Hopkinsville, the Montgomery County portion of the pike being still maintained as a toll pike. An effort will be made to induce the County Court to take early action looking not only to absolute purchase and freeing of this pike, but of all the pikes and ferries in the county along similar lines recently pursued in Davidson County.
Next week a meeting of all the business interests will be held in connection with a meeting of the Board of Trade to take such action on this subject as seems best under the circumstances."

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well-known blacksmith at Grahamville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to roup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared for his life. We had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the disease disappears as soon as it is settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult.
For sale by all druggists.

PROFITABLE PRISONS

Monthly Report Shows a Nice Excess of Receipts.

The monthly report of Secretary

McDonald, of the State Prison Commission, was issued Saturday. It shows an excess of income over the expenses of management of the two institutions as follows:

Main prison—Income Frankfort penitentiary, $12,249.70; expense Frankfort penitentiary, $10,161.40; excess of income over expense, $2, 087.30.

Cough Remedy, and find that it gives the most satisfactory results, especially among children for severe colds and croup." For sale by all druggists.

IN THE BEAUTIFUL MORNING.

The storm and the darkness—the desolate night—but the ship safely sure, and the harbor's calm!— And a misty swirl!
From the shore the bells:
How the beautiful morning!
Long was the sea-way, with billows to break,
But we dropped on those billows of havens Over the ocean's leaden kielas.
Still the clime of the Bellas.
Bells in the beautiful morning!
Mid the night the gulls were tossed of the storm on the strife We had drifted so far from the Love that it But the bells a'er the foam!
Ever singing of Home—
Home in the beautiful morning!
Storm and black billows—no hopes Love guides the ship to the white shores of Home—And the jubilant bells
From the jubilant bells:
Home in the beautiful morning—
Atlanta's creation.

A Leap Year Proposal.

By ELEANOR HOLLAND

Illustrated by Harry Pyle Co.

"Oh, PEGGY, have you seen Capt. Neely's offer?" was whispered by a party of veranda beauties as Margaret Bandall followed them.

"Offer of what?"

"Oh, gracious girls, tell her!"

"Why, the captain has offered—" began one of the darlings.

"A mile off, dear young boy," interrupted the captain. "I offer no gifts. But I have given my full powers to you to do as you please at once and me."

You see, Miss Peggy," said turning toward the late arrival, who, although she had been ruled by the light of her brightness, her wit, and her inexhaustible resources as an enterprising "I am disgusted with the way you young ladies are neglecting your leap year advantages, and I would like to give some of you a chance to make an offer before this year. Have you now?"

"Nothing but the awful dread of being refused has deterred us, captain," answered Miss Randall.

"Think of our feelings, when, after laying our hearts at your feet you refuse us?"

"This is just the contingency I have been providing for. The very point we were discussing when you joined us."

"YOU ACCEPT WHATEVER OFFER TO-NIGHT, CAPTAIN."

and I said that to every girl I refused this year I would give a jester's cue. I've a few drove of them, you know, and no more than eight that there are some little consolation prizes offered."

"That's not so bad; but, great heavens, captain!" exclaimed one of the younger men, "have you the least idea of what you're liable to get into?"

"Oh, I don't think this will be out so many ways, because I'm in a hurry to settle up the first thing that offers," said the hand-someest man among the sunburnt idlers. "You don't expect to have the refusal of all this young folk's assortments, do you?—but the more the merrier for the rest of us."

"Oh, I bend knee," the undulating captain made his bow. "I give three years' wages to the first girl who will accept me, and I'll be a good husband to her."

"Three years' wages?"

"Yes, sir; and I'll give three years' wages to the second girl, and so on, until I've got a wife."

"Capt. Neely, why, you high-souled soul, was there anything but a compliment and a compliment to the other girls?"

They declared that the captain either was possessed of a heart that he did not let anyone from an unrequited affection, or was absolutely heartless, because he only refused all offers till broken hearts became as common as candidates for legislative honors. The end of the session came, and he confined to one of the sitting ladies that he was thinking seriously of settling down, lest he might make the mistake of walking clear through the wood and then at last picking up a crooked stick.

"You accept, belle," offered the knight.

"It was the night of the last dance of the season.

Capt. Neely, who was dancing man, promenaded the veranda with a commanding air, and the girls, who had come to him, and an hour joined group of dancers who had come outside for her, she who had called him to make up his mind again on this occasion, demanded to know if he had made this conclusion in his favor, and that he had given his full consent of those whom he had already refused, he had done so, and that the consolation in this instance was to be a fancy andjulette.

"Well, Peggy, such a wretched woman as you certainly cannot afford to ignore such a chance. You would be a fool to say 'forever after hold your peace,'" laughed the irrepressible meddler.

"How can I propose now?" asked Peggy. "Wherever heard of a balloon proposal where there wasn't a cover-up?"

"Wouldn't we 'unconsciously drift apart from the others?" asked the candidate for matrimonial nominations.

"That might do," answered Peggy, and she did all the proposing for them, taking her arm, and together they strolled among the faniferous trees.

The irrepressible meddler looked after them, and thinking that Peggy never appeared lovelier than she did to-night in her pure white gown, she wondered if the sparrow world remember her joking advice. The lights grew fewer.

"Well, Peggy, why don't you begin surely you have heard this thing done?"

"She had dropped from his mind, and the girls, who had caught sight of the group on the veranda, but he insisted on keeping up the conversation as it had started out.

Miss Randall was generally regarded as a young woman without much personal beauty, but, in fact, she was a girl of unusually high ideals and probably beauty, she had so much to give she expected someone in return. No perfection, but her ideal of manhood was a noble one, and Capt. Neely, who had seemed to her more nobly born than any man she had known, was always to her.

It always seemed to her that she never appeared to such poor advantage as when with him, for then all the ability as a conversationalist, which was readily seemed to be, had not and she felt that to him it must appear a most uninteresting person.

Now the dusk did not let her see her wings, so far off on the fence, so the gayest manner she began to sing, and the tree into which she had deliberately thrown herself, uttering her standing: "My adorable James, isn't that the way they usually begin?"

"Very good," was the answer, "I probably refuse to listen to any proposal unless the author gets down on her knees."

"You base man, you evidently mean to involve in the situation, but I can't go down on my knees here, I'll sit on dress."

"I'll sit on you gravely spread his broad shoulder over the crumpled front of him and imperatively motioned her to kneel, and that she did, and in the most approved voice of suppressed and low began:

"My intrepid dame: while deeply conscious of my weak manhood—

"Don't mention it."

"I'll offer you the world, that is—"

GRACEY CLUB

Will Not Take Fall Hunt—May Go Later.

At a meeting of some of the members of the Gracey Hunting Club held recently it was decided not to take the annual hunt in Arkansas this fall. The hunt last year was a very successful one, and one that was greatly enjoyed by the members who went, but owing to the fact that many members would be unable to go this season, the regular trip was declared off.

The boys are thinking of taking an outing, however, early in January, and may go to Arkansas some time in that month for a ten days' hunt.
